ROUTE 173 PAVING AWARDED TODAY

State Highway Work Expanded as Election Nears

Contract for the paving of three pavement gaps on Route 173 between Antioch and Rosecrans was to be awarded today, according to announcement from the state highway department. Approximately two miles of paving is included, with the longest stretch through the village of Antioch connecting Route 59 at the intersection of the highway, with pavement end a mile east of town.

These unpaved sections are the last on the highway with the exception of the Caledonia gap 15 miles east of Rockford.

Contracts for 35 highway projects in all sections of the state have been awarded recently by the State Department of Public Works and Buildings, totaling $1,842,698.39, according to announcements from Springfield.

The launching of this extensive and belated construction program will place millions of dollars in circulation and will employ tens of thousands of workers. Republicans are "viewing with alarm" this activity on the part of the administration, coming on the eve of the November elections. Distribution of this vast amount of money at this time is bound to have its effects at the polls, as did the federal pork barrel in the recent Maine elections.

Sees Influencing of Votes.
"G. O. P. snafus are aroused by the fact that the road building should be so greatly stimulated just at this time that the political campaigns are under way," says Hal Faust in this Chicago Tribune. "Normally with the approach of winter, few projects are started at this time of the year. The Republicans also point to the little road work that was done in non-political 1933 and in the spring and summer months of 1934 as compared with available funds."

Explanations Are Made
The Horner administration, however, has explanations for the slack of last year and of this year to date. In the spring of 1933, the governor was fighting the cement industry, trying to make the mills compete in their prices on their bids for the state business. This delayed construction until the national recovery administration decided that competition in private industry should not be encouraged.

This year, work was delayed after it was disclosed and published that the state had bought $300,000 worth of patented pavement joints from a monopoly which Emmett Wheaton, Democratic president of the Cook county board, had helped to finance. Gov. Horner postponed award of contracts until competitive joints were approved by State Highway Engineer Lieberman.

Three Types Approved
Mr. Lieberman, fortunately for the Democrats on the November ticket, finally approved a total of three types of pavement expansion joints so that contracts can be let for this late fall construction campaign. No convulsion, just a happy happen so. The of 20 foot rural concrete approximate joints, incidentally, increase the cost the approval of Secretary Wallace's $1,100 a mile, but the feature has bureau of public roads because cracks from temperature changes will be reduced through this agency for expansion and contraction of the slabs.

Federal "easy money," a debt for future taxes, will contribute materially to this stimulant to Illinois business and employment from the pre-election paving activity. Last year's $17,570,070 NRA allotment to this state is all under contract with some projects finished and the contractors getting their final payments and with other projects under way with gangs of laborers on pay rolls.

MariAnne Shop to Move to New Location Next Week

MariAnne's Dress Shop will move from its present location in the Klein building to the Brogan building, some time next week. The new quarters are being improved and decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dunn attended A Century of Progress Monday.

Howard Bonner Heads Future Farmers Group

Howard Bonner was chosen president of the local Future Farmers group at the annual election of officers Thursday. Glenn Griffin was elected vice president, Frank Verkest, secretary, Frank Zelen, treasurer, and Everett Trunx, reporter.

The officers and members are planning a more extensive program of activities for the club this year. The upcoming event is the initiation of freshmen to the "Green Hand" degree.

The Club plans to have a lunch and candy stand at the Antioch Fair.

SEES HORTICULTURE AS FUTURE INDUSTRY FOR LAND OWNERS

Dairyman Says This County Would Yield Bountiful Apple Crops

When Lake county dairymen are through with milk strikes, price wrangling, hard work and other ills attending the milk industry, they may turn their attention to horticulture with every assurance of success, in the opinion of Harrie A. Tillotson, secretary of the Antioch Pure Milk association group.

Almost without exception farmers in western Lake county have become specialists in milk production and have come to depend upon milk checks as the main source of farm income. When things go wrong with dairying the farmer who has failed to diversify his efforts finds it hard going, Tillotson says. In his opinion Lake county has other possible industries worth developing. Horticulture is one of them. "With proper culture Lake county soil will grow some of the finest apple crops in the world," the secretary said. "With one of the greatest markets in the world right at our front door, an apple crop can be turned into quick cash. Of course the land owner would have to wait a few years for results, but the profits and satisfaction derived from the industry would justify the delay and the effort put into it."

With more and more farmers turning their attention to other agricultural pursuits, Tillotson sees the time in the future when dairying will be of less importance as a source of income.

STATE LEADERS TO ADDRESS BIG G.O.P. RALLY SEPTEMBER 27

Representative Richard J. Lyons of Maudele, candidate for reelection, will be one of the principal speakers at the Republican Rally to be held in the Waukegan Junior High school building, Washington and Jackson streets, next Thursday night, September 27. Mr. Lyons is regarded as one of the outstanding orators of the Republican party in Illinois and has delivered stirring talks in many cities in the state. The meeting will start at eight o'clock.

Other outstanding Republicans of Illinois who will address the meeting will be William J. Stratton of Ingleside, candidate for state treasurer, and Francis G. Blair, candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

In addition all Republican candidates in Lake County will be present and will be introduced. A cordial invitation to attend is extended to the general public.

Howard L. Scott, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central Committee, estimates that fully 1100 people from Lake county attended the Constitution Day program at the Century of Progress in Chicago last Monday, hearing the talks by former Senator Ole Glean and former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri in which powerful appeals were made for the preservation and spirit of the Constitution.

Schools Freshmen Elect Class Officers

After a campaign period extending into the third week, and filled with much lobbying, ins, outs, angles and what have you, just like regular big time political campaigns, the Antioch High school freshmen Wednesday proceeded with balloting for the election of class officers. Here are the elects:

President Jack Crandall
Vice President June Nelson
Sec.-Treas. Parker Hazen

Grade Team Wins 2 Games

With two victories already won, the grade school soft ball team is away to a good start in the fall series of conference games, the local lads are said to be developing "pennant aspirations." After the fall series the schedule will be resumed next spring when weather permits.

The Antioch team defeated Lake Villa in the first game, 21 to 15, with Williams and Strang on the firing line for the locals, and Schneider and Dixon doing battery work for Lake Villa. The game was played at Lake Villa.

The second victory for the locals was won from the Grayslake team, Monday, when Antioch took the visitors into camp, 9 to 6. Williams and Strang again did battery work for Antioch.

The third game of the series will be played Friday afternoon at 3:30 on the home grounds with the Gavin school team as opponents.

Many Players Available.
Principal Ralph E. Clabaugh, who is manager and coach of the team, has used 17 boys in the two games played, and others are to appear in the lineup in future games. Players used to date are:

Roger Williams, Robert Strang, Charles Hostetter, Gordon Knott, Maurice Verkest, Winsor Dalgard, Billy Teebert, Francis Pacini, Steve Wasko, Virgil Horton, James Mapletorpe, Henry Quadenfeld, Bobby Hunt, Glenn Pierce, Bobby Hawkins, Roger Brogan, and Bobby Burke.

The School Board has appropriated $40 for library books to be placed in the class rooms. With this amount about six books can be purchased for each room. Teachers will make the selections. Last year the appropriation was $50.00.

Class room lights in the new grade building have now globes for the first time. They were installed this week by Charles Lux, Antioch electrician.

FEED PROBLEM WORRIES FARMERS

Local Dairymen Hold Meeting; 3,000 Tons of Hay Purchased

The feed problem and the unsettled and low price paid for their product are things that are vexing dairymen in this locality. It was revealed at a meeting of the Antioch local of the Pure Milk association held at Pikeville September 11.

Government interference was causing delay in the fixing of prices for feed. President H. A. Pfister of the Pure Milk association, told members. Price of milk for this month was expected to be set at about $1.90 per hundred pounds for base milk, according to H. A. Tillotson, secretary of the local, who keeps in close touch with conditions relating to the dairy industry.

Williams Talks to Dairymen.

Present at the meeting also was W. R. Williams, president of the Antioch Dairy Co., and Manager McGinnis, manager of the local plant. Williams told the dairymen he knew little about farming, and that his part of the business was to watch the "rat-holes." Patrons of the local dairy plant are of the opinion that Mr. Williams is an expert at watching financial leaks, as the Antioch Dairy Company is operating one of the few plants that has paid its patrons in full and always at a stated time.

McGinnis assured patrons that the square deal policy was working out for the benefit of all and proving its value in the operation of the local dairy plant.

Director L. Fiedmeyer of the Kenosha Co-operative Association explained how milk was handled at the Kenosha plant. His talk was instructive.

Buy 3,000 Tons of Hay.

The Pure Milk Association has purchased 3,000 tons of hay, President Pfister told the dairymen. The hay was shipped from different areas in three states from localities not as seriously affected by the drought, Pfister said. The feed is available to members of the Association.

Second to the feed problem was the question of bedding for stock, which will be an additional item of expense, and a new one for local farmers who have not had a shortage of this material for many decades.

"In looking over the notes of the meeting," Secretary Tillotson said, "it surely makes the burden of these expenses seem lighter to know that both of our Antioch dairy plants are working for the good of all interested. (The secretary referred to the Antioch Dairy Co. and Scott's Dairy, a large user of milk purchased from local dairymen.)"

"CRAZY POLITICS" TO BE STAGED HERE OCT. 11-12

Ladies' Guild Will Sponsor Unusual Home Talent Production

A committee representing the Ladies' Guild of St. Ignace church, headed by Mrs. Wm. H. Osmond as president, met Wednesday with a representative of the Universal Producing Company and made arrangements for the staging of a new and different type of amateur production, entitled "Crazy Politics." The production will be staged October 11 and 12, in the Antioch High school auditorium.

"Crazy Politics" is something entirely different in the way of amateur entertainment, because it uses an all-male cast of 75 prominent men and 25 high school girls for the singing and dancing groups. It is a show with a fast moving plot, that it full of suspense, comedy and action, according to the producing company.

Mrs. Lena Holmes, daughter Janet, and son John, of Chicago are guests of Mrs. Holmes' sister, Mrs. Dan Longman.

Mrs. Elberta Straghan spent a few days this week visiting relatives in Waukegan.

P.T.A. And Guests Welcome Teachers

Teachers old and new, of both the Antioch Township High school and the Grade School were guests of honor at a reception given in the high school auditorium Monday night. The event was sponsored by the Antioch P. T. Association.

Teachers and patrons were welcomed by Mrs. Robbins, president of the P.T. A., Principal L. O. Bright introduced the newcomers of the high school staff, and Superintendent Ralph Clabaugh introduced the new teachers at the grade school. County Superintendent of Schools W. C. Petty talked briefly.

The four new teachers at the local schools this year are: Miss Genevieve McCullough, 3rd grade teacher, and Miss Doris Mason, 5th grade teacher in the grades; and Melvin Stilson, manual arts, and Albert Sutter, science teacher and coach at the high school.

The large number present at the reception danced to the enjoyable music of Hans Von Holweide and his high school jazz band following the program. The P. T. A. committee saw that all present were well fed.

$305,163 TAX LEVY APPROVED BY BOARD

Actual Collection of Taxes Will Fall Far Short

The county board of supervisors Friday approved a tax levy of $305,163, following the passing of the county appropriation on which the levy was based. The levy was approved 20 to 7, and the appropriation passed 18 to 8. Actual collections of taxes will fall far short of the levy, if last year's valuation of $95,000,000 is taken, which means that only $239,000 can be realized at the present tax rate. But only 80 per cent of Lake county taxes are collectable, according to figures from the United States government, and on that basis only $191,280 will be collected instead of the levy of $305,163.

Some of the major amounts included in the levy follow:
Grand and petit jurors' fees...$18,000
Mothers' pensions 18,000
Blind pensions 27,000
Printing 27,500
Stationery, supplies 20,000

ANTIOCH BANKS ARE APPROVED BY F.H.A.

Applications for home modernization loans were placed with the First National Bank of Antioch, State Bank of Antioch, and the Antioch Lumber & Coal Co. this week. The home modernization, or National Housing Act was launched recently upon authorization of the HOLC to handle loans for improvement of homes.

The act provides that each approved lending institution is insured against loss up to an equivalent to 20 per cent of its total qualified loans, and that a property owner can borrow from an approved institution up to $2,000 to repair, remodel and rebuild his property. Loans may be repaid in regular installments extending over periods from one to three years, with provision for exceptional cases running to five years.

Lending institutions may not collect as interest, discount, or fee of any kind in excess of $5.00 per $100 of the original face of the payment note, deductible in advance.

Any property owner may make application for loans for this purpose. In this community applications will be received at the local banks, and the files will be forwarded to the modernization branch in Chicago for acceptance or rejection.

The nation-wide better housing program is designed to raise the standard of living, create employment, put idle capital to work, and increase trade in every industry, all of which will be directly or indirectly affected by the act which was launched as a broad recovery measure.

Miss Elizabeth Webb and Mrs. Frank Hunt attended A Century of Progress Monday.

WATERWAYS OF LAKE COUNTY UNDER SURVEY

Two Crews Start Work; Will Relieve Unemployment

Two crews of eight men each will begin the work of making an extensive survey of the chain of lakes and tributary streams and of Michigan's shore early next week, according to Elmer Sorenson, inspector of waterways in this district. Each crew will be in charge of a chief engineer and one assistant, Sorenson said.

The survey is to be preliminary to the launching of an extensive program to improve Lake county's waterways, and at the completion of the survey the engineers will make recommendations regarding work that can be done during the coming months. The project is expected to provide employment for many Lake county men now idle.

Acting under instructions from the department of public works and buildings, and District Engineer Walter M. Smith, Sorenson this week is seeking Lake county men who can qualify as surveyor's assistants, preferably men at present unemployed but not necessarily on relief. The pay will average from $21 to $25 a week for five days to six hours each.

Funds for the project will be provided through the Illinois Emergency Relief, Sorenson stated. The improvement program is launched following the recent agitation by the Waterways Association of Northern Illinois for a cleanup of lakes and streams in western Lake county. A state appropriation for this purpose will be sought at the next session of the legislature.

SEVERIN HANSON TO BE CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Severin Hanson, prominently known Waukegan contractor and a leader in the National Taxpayers party, will be an independent candidate for congressman from this district. Friends started the circulation of petitions last Friday to have his name placed on the ballot for the November 6 election.

Hanson, who is well known on the North Shore, intends to make a determined campaign for election and indications are that he will cut in considerably on the balloting for the candidates on the Republican and Democratic ticket.

Mrs. Mapletorpe on Musical Program at Century of Progress

Mrs. Areble Mapletorpe, Antioch, accompanied Mrs. Corrine Johnson, Lake Forest soloist, yesterday at the Illinois Federation Day program at the Illinois Hotel House, Century of Progress.

The program of music followed the luncheon at the Hotel House. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Mapletorpe appeared in three numbers, one of them, "Credo," a composition by Mrs. Mapletorpe. They were the only Lake county women on the program, which was in charge of Mrs. Piggott, state music chairman.

SURE—THE PUBLIC PAYS

Politicians who offer the wildest schemes promising to lift the people by their boot straps above every problem that besets them, are generally men who maintain little or no business of their own and who pay a minimum of taxes.

A mediocre public official—a servant of the people if you please—when clothed with temporary governmental authority, too often assumes the role of master of the people.

When one scans the qualifications and ability of many public servants, one trembles to think what would happen to the industries and employment of the nation if their success rested in the hands of such managers. And yet men who never had the management or spending of four bits in nickels of their own, when elected or appointed to public office, have a free hand in spending millions and billions of taxpayers' money for every kind of scheme under the sun.

The official tax spenders are not liable for waste, inexperience or bad judgment. Their worst penalty is defeat for political office. The public pays the bill.

If private business were run by the same inexperienced management there would be no taxable assets to maintain government and finance political experiments.

The farther government gets away from the functions of governing and into competing business with its private citizens, the greater becomes the danger of undermining constitutional safeguards drawn to prevent entrenched officialism, and the more active must the people become in protecting their individual liberties through a careful weeding process in choosing their public servants.

No manager of an industry or housewife would knowingly keep a wasteful employee. No property owner or voter should knowingly keep a wasteful public servant.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK COMES AGAIN

In about a month—between October 7th and 13th—Fire Prevention Week will be observed again. The week, which has become a national custom, will be formally initiated by proclamations by the President, governors of states, mayors of cities and other prominent persons in public and private life.

During the week every citizen will have a splendid opportunity to learn the fundamentals of fire prevention and control. Through speeches, newspaper and magazine articles, exhibits and other means, an intensive effort will be made to enlist the citizen's interest. He can blame no one but himself if he fails to learn.

Fire prevention is a civic duty which every citizen owes to himself and to every other person. We all pay for fire—we pay for it in lost business, destroyed jobs, higher taxes and insurance rates. On the average, each family contributes $4.00 a year as a tribute to Moloch—dollars which are destroyed as surely as if we tossed them into a stove. Worse still, three people—two adults and a child—out of each 39,000 of our population, are sacrificed to the pagan god—because we are ignorant and careless when it comes to fire.

In the past, it has often been the experience that fire losses dropped during the week and for a short period thereafter, only to rise again as the public gradually forgot the information gleaned. This year we should look forward to the week and devote a little time during it to really learning the fundamentals of fire prevention, then remember and practice them in the future.

WHEN INDUSTRY STARVES

In 1913 the cost of all governments in the United States was slightly under $3,000,000,000. The national income was $35,500,000,000. Taxes thus took around ten per cent of our earnings. In 1933, according to a recent estimate, the cost of government was about $20,000,000,000. The national income had sunk to the abnormal low of about $60,000,000,000. At that ratio taxes required 33 per cent of it; said J. B. Johnson, vice president of the Ohio Public Service Co., Elyria, Ohio.

In brief, the cost of government has risen 700 per cent while the national income has risen less than 100 per cent. The probability is that figures for 1934 will show still further distortion of the relationship between income and cost of government.

Here is one of the main reasons why we are finding it so difficult to effect recovery. Money that, if taxation were reasonable, would go for jobs, dividends, purchasing of supplies and industrial expansion, goes instead to government. It is kept out of the normal channels of trade. Bureaucracy eats and grows fat—business starves.

Based on the above estimate, one-third of the average family income is now taken to pay the cost of government, directly or indirectly. The price of everything purchased, from a lead pencil to an automobile, is made higher because of the tax burden.

The seriousness of this problem cannot be over-emphasized. We are reaching the point where government must adjust its cost to a reasonable percentage of the national income, or business will continue in the doldrums.

THE CRUSADING SPIRIT

Fred S. Sexauer, President of the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., recently said that dairy producers may soon find it necessary to again bring into play the crusading spirit with which they have attacked their marketing problems in the past, and added: "Organization can do what the government cannot do because it cannot be mobilized and into it cannot be placed that spirit of the crusader. That can come only when groups of people so thoroughly believe in what they are doing that the motivating forces behind them are not selfish, but instead there is a deep desire to do those things which are beneficial not alone to themselves, but to their neighbors, their state and their country."

In those words, Mr. Sexauer gives an excellent picture of the "secret of success" of the farm cooperative movement. The best farm co-ops have always been crusaders; their problems have changed from year to year as old ones settled and new ones arose, but the crusading spirit was never lost. It was shared by management and member alike—every person connected with the organization, whatever his capacity, worked tirelessly, faithfully and to the utmost in advancing the interests of all concerned.

The crusading spirit that carried the co-ops through five years of depression is the best asset they have in meeting the issues of the future.

SPOTLIGHTING THE STARS

HELLO! Want to hear the latest about the stars? Okay, here you are! Flush is the name of the adorable spaniel who plays in "The Barrette of Wimpole Street." This pup shares acting honors in the new movie with Norma Shearer and a lot of other famous stars. They say that Sir Harry Lauder has given away nearly two million dollars to charity. And he's a SCOTCHMAN!

Radio is not a bed of roses. Gladys Swarthout never had to rehearse so hard for her Metropolitan Opera appearances as she does for her roles in the Palmolive Beauty Box Theatre classical and semi-classical light operas over N. B. C. every Tuesday night. Each rehearsal takes about 36 hours. So you can't blame her for doing a little repair work in between her songs.

When "Treasure Island" was being filmed, a talking parrot was used in many scenes with Wally Beery. This bird became a great favorite with Jackie Cooper, Lionel Barrymore and other members of the cast. Because of its shape of his proboscis (nose to you) he was promptly dubbed "Jimmie Durante."

Beauty hint: The reason the older film stars have such lovely complexions and retain their beauty longer than an ordinary woman is because the years of making up for pictures gives exercise to the muscles of the face and preserves the skin texture. Maybe we should all get made up like Lon Chaney every day—just for the exercise. Television is still a long way off they say. Some of the radio stars will appear to very bad advantage when it does come. But one little lady who won't suffer from television is lovely Vera Van.

Rosemary Lane, believe it or not, works for Henry Ford. Yes, she sings on the Ford Hour. She won't suffer from television either, do you think? One day Colonel Stoopnagle and Bud illustrated for our photographer just how it feels to have a hangover. Silly, isn't it? Well, so long, see you soon.

go to Niagara Falls and other places of interest.

Miss Elizabeth Webb, Miss Mary Herman and Miss Katherine Minto, Antioch, are attending the Central States fair at Springfield.

Mrs. Will Christian attended a surprise party on her mother, Mrs. Geo. Johnson, in Kenosha Tuesday evening. She was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Murray.

Mrs. Pete Laursen returned home Tuesday after spending a few days last week in Racine at the home of her son, Thorvald Laursen and family.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By ANN PAGE
PEOPLE who like pork chops or a roast loin of pork will be able to satisfy their appetites this week as the price is now within reason. Lamb prices, too, are moderate. Butter and cheese are still attractively priced though butter prices may change at any time.

Apples, grapes and melons in variety are the outstanding fruits though pears, plums and prunes are fairly plentiful.

Entrees are even cheaper than a week ago. Sweet potatoes and yams are also lower. Lima beans and peas are less expensive but string beans and spinach are the outstanding green vegetables. Cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and Brussels sprouts are all in market at reasonable prices. The following menus are made up from the latest market now available.

The Pleasure In Saving Safely

People do not save for the sake of possessing money itself, but for the purpose of the purchasing power that goes with the possession of money.

Some save with a definite object in view, others because they know the desires that can thus be satisfied.

It is this anticipation that makes saving a pleasure. This bank is helping a great many to participate in the pleasure of saving. Now under the F. D. I. C. the pleasure of saving is doubled, because our bank guarantees its deposits up to five thousand dollars.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 23.

The Golden Text was, "Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob" (Psalms 114:7).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Judge not according to the appearance, but Judge righteous judgment" (John 7:24).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Whatever is material is mortal... Divine Science shows it to be impossible that a material body, though interwoven with matter's highest stratum, misnamed mind, should be man—the genuine and perfect man, the immortal idea of being, indestructible and eternal" (p. 477).

OFTEN the most obvious facts escape us just because they are seen so constantly that they become commonplace. Slip Covers Will Lengthen Furniture Life

Plain Color Best in Room Where Drapes and Rugs Are Patterned

Slip covers for furniture are now being used the year around. They are especially appreciated as they actually lengthen the life of chairs and sofas because they protect the upholstery materials from the dirt and grime of winter.

When soiled it is a simple matter to tub them, and if care has been used in getting practical, sturdy materials for the slip covers they will stand up a long time under hard wear.

Tub Fast Materials Most Practical
When the draperies of a room show a definite pattern and the floor covering is also patterned, it is wise to use a solid color, plain fabric for the covers. Perhaps one chair and a sofa may utilize the same material as that of the draperies, but it would result in a confusing array of designs if an entirely new and different pattern were chosen for the other pieces of furniture. To avoid this a solid color neutral fabric may be chosen for most of the slip covers.

Because of frequent laundering, it pays to buy tubfast, nonfading materials. The new novelty, nubby, napped cottons, are popular. In this class terry cloth stands well toward the top of the list. It comes in lovely colors.

The fancy patterned bed tickings that one sees on the luxurious mattresses nowadays are also being used for slip covers. In soft grays they are attractive. Denims are always good, as are Belgian linens, reps, mercerized poplins, cotton damasks, and the big chintz family, glazed and unglazed.

OUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN C. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Food Essentials for the School Child

I like to repeat certain topics from time to time because there are always new readers to be considered and because repetition gives emphasis. And frequently there are new scientific findings to be presented.

This week, chiefly because a new school year is beginning, I want to discuss again the food essentials. Perhaps I should mention the fact that these comments on food are not just mine alone. They do not represent merely a personal opinion. Instead they are the result of years of painstaking scientific research by nutrition specialists who have made the laboratory investigation of foods their life's work.

And, what is important to us, their findings are practically unanimous. They all stress the importance of milk, for example, both for children and adults. The familiar "quart a day" is not mere sales talk. It is in itself a scientific conclusion, resulting from countless calculations and recheckings of the growing child's need for the elements of milk. Similarly, we know the truth about eggs, and bread and butter. There should be a pleasing variety of course. Even milk is just as valuable given in many different ways. Meals should be cheerful, pleasant occasions, attractively offered. All parents and school lunch managers who adhere to these essentials can feel assured that they are doing their best to promote child health and development.

School Health Examinations, a most important topic, will be dealt with by Dr. Ireland next week.

WILMOT MEN ARE EMPLOYED ON COUNTY ROADS

Soft Ball Team Wins Pennant; Will Play Stars Tuesday

Several of the men from the village are employed on county highway work north of Silver Lake. The stretch of road along the river north of Wilmot which has been used for a dumping ground for years is sadly in need of beautification and it is hoped the work may be extended to include this piece of land.

Wilmot won the pennant offered with Bassetts, Oak Knoll and Fox River Soft ball league. Wilmot won for most games won in the League 8 games and lost two. Tuesday night the Wilmot players are to meet the best players picked from the three teams in an All Star game to be played on the Bassett diamond.

Frost on Refrigerator Pipes Acts as Insulator

If one is interested in economical maintenance of the electric refrigerator, it is well to keep in mind that when the frost is deposited a quarter of an inch-thick around the coils, it acts as an insulator. As a blanket or a thick paper around a cake of ice makes it last longer, so this blanket of frost makes the refrigerator motor keep harder at work cooling the cabinet. Defrost your refrigerator regularly as needed. It will pay you in cents if not in dollars.

Another point to keep in mind is that all left-overs and all foods which are moist or liquid, should be kept covered. There are numerous covered containers on the market which can be used for this purpose.

One of the handy, new gadgets is a nut-meat chopper which cuts nuts and peanuts in uniform, even sizes, with its sturdy, glass jar. It is always ready to use, easy to keep clean and gives good service.

Fresh, Crisp, Moist Foods

Something new for the refrigerator, and something new for the picnic basket, too: bags of various sizes made of transparent cellulose sheeting are now on the market. These can be used for storing fruits and vegetables, and for covering picnics or bowls holding leftovers. These bags keep foods fresh, crisp, and moist. They prevent odors from escaping into the refrigerator, and from passing from food to food. These bags are also put up in a size specially made for sandwiches.

After a Lapse of 50 Years

By Mary Story Howard

Jerome made me a rest for the worst foot, so I could kneel on it which helped a great deal. We all worked very hard, but seems now we were very happy until July 1st when the second brother was taken sick with typhoid fever and died the 25th. He was buried on a hill in sight of, and not far from, our home. It was, I think, the first grave made there. It was a beautiful spot for the purpose, and has always been used for a cemetery place.

Early the next year, 1855, father bought a house and built a shop on Main street, where he had a large trade in meats, buying sheep and cattle from men on ranches in the valleys. They were really wild cattle, for when brought up they had to be rushed through the town on the run to the corral and slaughter-house, every soul was out of sight, and was he unto anyone who dared to show a head. As early as the spring of 1857, brother Monroe, who was under fourteen years of age, usually did the buying of cattle, carrying large amounts of money for the purpose in a belt around his waist.

He would go perhaps forty or fifty miles into the valleys to the rodeos or round-ups, and with the help of men there always ready to see that he got fair play, would select a herd and get someone to help drive them up, which was no small undertaking for grown men. Brother Jerome was somewhat larger and came in for the heavier work. Sometimes these two boys would go to the corral and do the butchering alone. They had to lasso the cattle from a little platform above the door. One would drop the rope down, to be caught by the other boy by opening the door just enough to grasp it, pass it through a ring in the floor, and fasten to a windlass. In this way they would draw the creature in and to the ring in the floor, and just at the right time open the door to let him through and not attract the attention of the others. Sometimes this failed and then the boys would each look out for himself. They had some narrow escapes, of which they could tell best themselves. When they succeeded in drawing the head to the floor, the door was closed and the creature was shot, as the safest way. Father owned and ran another shop at Amador, and a part of the meat was sent there.

He had a gray horse that had as much judgment as some people; I think he was wonderful. They could take him up to the corral, hitched to a cart, and when the meat was ready, load it on and tell him to go; he would come down to the shop in Sutter, perhaps three-quarters of a mile, back in between two posts, and if he did not at first make it would look back, take a step forward and try again. When those in the shop had taken what was needed, they too, would tell him to go, and he would proceed to Amador, where Martin Howard, later my husband, had charge of the shop.

That horse would there back in as at the other shop, and when relieved of the load, would go to the stable, where I hope he had good care. He did this for more than two years, when something happened and he could never be trusted alone again.

Our sister Belle was born here at this home in July, 1856; she was loved by all of us, but lived a short life, and on November 23, 1858, was laid on that hill beside the brother. In the spring of the next year, 1859, our dear brother Frank was buried there also. Somewhere, some years later, in that same cemetery, two of my husband's brothers were buried—Lyman and Jeremiah Howard. The latter was killed in December, 1857, at the lower Eureka mill, while oiling a cam-shaft.

An Early Day Hanging
Sometime about 1855, at a place called Rancheria, which all old Californians will remember, there was a terrible massacre.

There was great excitement, and many a poor innocent Spaniard and Mexican lost their lives. I remember sitting on the veranda of the American Exchange hotel, when a Mexican was being tried for his life, just below in the street. I don't think he was proven guilty, but nothing would satisfy the crowd but a hanging. So in the morning he was taken to a tree just north of town and hanged. He had a poor sister there, who wanted to have his body taken down, but the crowd threatened to shoot anyone who dared touch the body.

Little Jerry Howard, who was always ready to dare most anything, told the sister he would help her, but that lawless crowd threatened him. He stood back, opened his coat, and told them to shoot. He cut the body down, and after waiting awhile, went with the woman down to Barnard's store in Spanish town, where they got someone to fix a box. The two of them took it up to the tree and, I think without help, put the man into it. There were plenty of reasonable people who would have helped, had they dared, and did not approve of all that was done, but as is always the case, it is the rougher or more lawless who rule in lynchings. I often wonder if there is anyone in Sutter Creek who remembers that incident. Some of these happenings, printed and reprinted in the Grizzly Bear Magazine, with other experiences on the plains, and in California then and now, are of great interest to me.

Return to East by Steamer

Brother Frank died very soon after arrangements had been made to leave for Illinois, our parents having sold both shops and home. It was very hard to leave our little graves on the hill, but farm life had always appealed to all and no good title could then be gotten to land in California. It had been held in large grants by the Mexicans and Spaniards and never released, so those buying ran the risk of having to pay over again. It was very uncertain, although people could, and did, build anywhere they could find unoccupied space, and their right might never be disputed. So father at this time bought of a Mr. Tibbitts a whole section of land, now the townsite of the town called Crete, Will County, Illinois, paying only four hundred dollars for it. He sold it four years later for twelve hundred, and no doubt it is worth a great deal more now.

A million dollars worth of eyes and how to protect them with a few cents worth of light

"If I could only give my child more advantages," says many a parent today. Yet one priceless advantage most of us can give, is often overlooked—unimpaired eyesight. And this simply because we don't realize the part poor lighting plays in damaging eyesight.

What correct lighting is

To protect eyes you should have from 20 to 30 foot-candles of light falling on the printed page. This light should be properly diffused with no glare, no deep shadows, no contrasts to cause eyes to change focus frequently. Under such lighting eye tension is relieved. Your body relaxes. Your nerves relax, too.

Why many homes fail to have it

Most women would be only too glad to give their families the benefit of safe lighting; to protect the eyesight of their children. But they have no way of measuring the kind of light their lamps give. And so night after night eyes struggle on, with danger of permanent injury.

How to get it

In the last few years some wonderful discoveries have been made about proper lighting. Lighting engineers have found that just by changing the position of shades, by raising or lowering the height of bulbs, and by designing a special kind of "light reflecting" shade, these handicaps to eyesight are completely overcome. Your Public Service Store has a variety of these properly designed lamps for sale. They are beautiful as well as safe for eyes. Come down and see them. At the same time learn, from our better lighting display, simple and easy ways in which you can improve the lighting in your home. And get free, a marvelous little device called "The Lighting Tape Measure," which enables you to tell quickly whether or not each lamp in your home is providing safe light. Act at once. Don't allow the eyes in your family to struggle unaided another night.

Politics

Eight thousand Democrats assembled at the picnic held at Sportsmen's Park Sunday heard Michael L. Igoe lay G. O. P. policies and condemn criticism of the N. R. A. Igoe, who ran for governor two years ago, contrasted the situation two years ago with that of today. At the beginning of the present administration the country "was on the verge of absolute destruction and it was necessary to close banks. Today all savings deposits are guaranteed up to $5,000," Igoe said. "Rugged individuals who controlled the government for 12 years made the rugged individuals of two years ago." Igoe defended the state administration by declaring that Gov. Horner pledged to reduce taxes and actually did reduce them.

All county Democratic candidates were present and were introduced by Einar Sorenson of Channel Lake, co-chairman of the picnic committee, with Sergeant Arthur Stanton, was given credit for the record-breaking success of the outing by the platform speakers at which time an accurate check disclosed 3,500 automobiles parked on the grounds in addition to several buses and trucks from Waukegan and North Chicago.

Charging excessive and uncontrolled spending, Ralph E. Church, Evanston, candidate for congress from the tenth congressional district, rapped the Democratic national administration in an address Sunday at the annual rally of the First Ward Republican club held at Small's park. Church and William J. Stratton, Republican candidate for state treasurer were the principals at the big ward rally that drew over 3,000 people throughout the day.

Church charged that the Democratic administration passed staggering appropriations over which congress exercised no control. In a portion of his address he said:

"The actions of Congress in passing blanket appropriation bills led to staggering appropriations, over the spending of which Congress exercised no control."

$13,500 Per Minute
 "Every time the clock ticked off a minute during the 12 months ending June 30, 1934, the Federal government spent $13,500."

"By spending $13,500 while it collected only $5,900, the Federal Treasury netted a loss of $7,600 per minute."

Protect Your Children

Many children born in Germany during the worst years of the World War are today inferior physically and mentally to children born in more prosperous years. With the same thing being true of the children of this present period in the United States. It will no less each mother sees to it that in economizing on her family's diet she economizes on the right things. Today's children have to go on living a long time with the bodies they are building now. It is imperative therefore that they have the foods that will supply them with the essential substances in the correct amounts.

Here, listed briefly, is an outline of the six known vitamins, their functions and the foods that supply them in the greatest amounts:

Vitamin A (Anti-infective). Prevents infections (especially of eyes and respiratory system). Promotes growth and longevity. Maintains health and vigor. Promotes appetite and digestion. Essential for normal reproduction. Essential for rearing of the young.

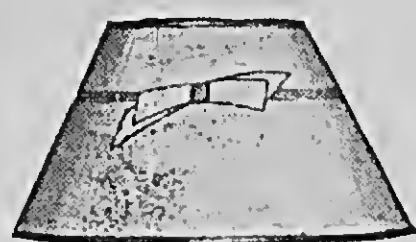

Excellent sources are: Milk, cream, eggs, egg yolk, alfalfa, broccoli, spinach, tomato.

Vitamin B (Anti-dermatitis). Regulates the absorption and metabolism of the bone-forming elements—calcium and phosphorus. Regulates the mineral metabolism of the bones and teeth. Required by the pregnant mother to prevent rickets in the young.

Excellent sources are: Cod liver oil, salmon.

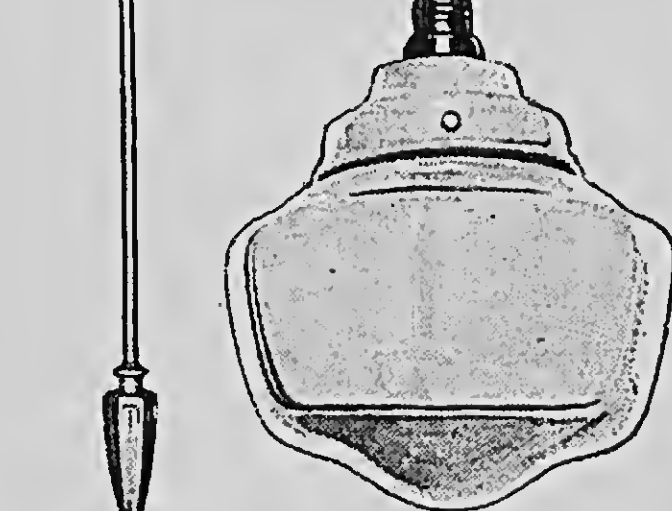

Vitamin C (Anti-scurvy). Indirect and direct floor lamp with new three-intensity light for general lighting, reading, sewing and bridge. Pure silk shade.
